Words of Cheer and Comfort

If wife, mother or daughter is ill and you are obliged to be absent, what a comfort it is to talk home every evening by long distance telephone! Your own anxiety is relieved and your loved ones are cheered by the sound of your voice.

"Station-to-station" long distance service, developed recently by the Bell System, meets situations of this kind exactly. Just call your home by number and tell the operator you will talk to any one who answers.

When the call is answered, the "station-to-station" rate, which is about twenty percent lower than the "person-to-person" rate, applies. You can then talk to all the members of your family, one after another, on the one call, if you wish.

Evening rates on "station-to-station" calls, which are about one-half the day rates, become effective at 8:30 p.m. After midnight the night rate, about one-fourth the day rate, applies.

Can persons be prosecuted for distributing literature without a license if they drop handbills from an airplane? The Elgin police would like to know, and they are asking whether the city ordinances extend upward in authority to the infinite heavens. Meanwhile they are searching for an airplane and its occupants which flew over the city and dropped handbills attacking an Elgin theater which is having difficulty with its union employees. The plane is believed to have come from Chicago.

Memories of the time when the stage coach was in its heyday, especially along the old National road, which, in the early years of the last century, ran from Cumberland, Md., out through southern Illinois, are revived in the application of the Wabash Valley Transit company for the right to operate a motor bus line over the old road. The company has asked the Illinois commerce commission for a certificate of convenience and necessity to run motor busses over the National road from Marshall, near the Indiana line, to Effingham. It was over this highway that the stage coaches and the "mountain ships," carrying huge loads of freight, plied their way a century ago.
